A disruptive Hillary Clinton was placed in lockdown at GITMO following a series of incidents in which the former Secretary of State spat on guards, defecated on the floor of her cell, assaulted U.S. military personnel, and, in her witch's cackle, hurled obscenities indefatigably at staff and fellow inmates, said a source familiar with Clinton's arrest and incarceration at the world's most infamous detention center.

As reported previously, U.S. Navy SEALs working under Trump's command raided Clinton's Chappaqua, NY, estate on March 2, resulting in her arrest. Three days later, she was taken to GITMO's Camp Delta, former home to Al-Qaeda and ISIS Jihadists.

Citing a March 15 GITMO situation report, our source said Clinton was a model prisoner during her first week in captivity, meaning she kept her mouth shut and didn't cause a ruckus. But on March 10 her demeanor changed; she underwent what a staff psychiatrist called a behavioral metamorphosis. A once complacent Clinton turned suddenly hostile and uncooperative.

On March 11, Clinton went on a hunger strike, claiming guards had poisoned her food, and threw serving trays at staff. Then she began hurling pithy aphorisms and insults at the men tasked with guarding her: "I'm Hillary Clinton, you can't do this to me!" "My people will get me out of here." "You're violating my constitutional right." And so on.

"It's almost comical to hear Clinton complain about her rights being violated. That woman has violated the rights and freedoms of more Americans than any person in history, except for the criminal Barack Hussein Obama. Her witless banter then turned to threats, veiled at first, then obvious," our source said.

Clinton threatened guards and their families, admitting she had ordered the deaths of countless people who had slighted her. She told GITMO staff that their loved ones "are not beyond my reach" and demanded to be released. When told she had no rights, and shared the same status as Jihadi inmates, Clinton took a turn for the worse. She stopped using the commode and instead shat on her cell floor. She repeatedly spat in guards' faces, forcing them to bag and gag her when escorting her to and from the cell.

"She even bit a guard on the arm. The guy had to get a tetanus vaccination," our source said. "Two days later, though, she had another transmogrification. She all of a sudden became laconic and withdrawn. She sat in a corner of her cell with her knees drawn up against her chest and shook uncontrollably, quaking like an animal and frothing at the mouth."

Guards sedated Clinton and brought her to the infirmary, where the facility's sole physician made an alarming discovery: the saggy skin on her left forearm was dotted with pinpricks like one might expect to find on a heroin addict.

The physician did a comprehensive metabolic panel and typed her blood, and lab results revealed inexplicable abnormalities. Her blood, which is AB- according to State Department records, had metalloproteins of two other blood types, A- and O+, a medical impossibility suggesting she had received infusions from incompatible donors. The lab also showed atypical concentrations of adrenochrome, a chemical compound produced by the oxidation of adrenaline.

Some circles believe that the most potent and purest forms of adrenochrome are harvested from frightened young children, then injected or administered via infusion into a recipient as a euphoric, recreational drug that allegedly has anti-aging properties. It appeared as if Clinton had been a frequent recipient of the pharmacological cocktail.

“The bitch was going through withdrawal. Who knows how long she was shooting that shit into her veins to prolong her unnatural life? It had to be the adrenochrome. They tested her for every known narcotic under the sun—all negative,” our source said.

In closing, our source said Clinton’s withdrawal, for however long it lasts, will have no bearing on her impending military tribunal, which is tentatively scheduled for April 8.

“The traitor will be held to account,” he said.

-I hope they put her on a pole like vladimir did...and keep her alive for ten or more yrs slowly rotting

The world expects to see videos, pictures and audio recordings related to this story that unequivocally demonstrate this is factual, true and will hold up in a court of law. Employ watermarking, stock market ticker prices with date and time match, chain of custody, source IP, geo location. The Left will claim “deep fake” – be prepared.

No worry, her doppelganger is already moving about in DC and in Chappaqua. They will never know.

Hello , I don't know who your sources are but I have heard so many different versions . I heard she was arrested in 2016 already and at Gitmo was tried and convicted of her crimes and executed ? This has been on telegram . Then you say she's at Gitmo now and trial date April 8 ? So there is false info circling ! Please back up your source. By the way telegram would not let me post your article ?

I really don't care what someone heard on Telegram or elsewhere. This information comes directly to me from someone in daily contact with Donald Trump, who is intimately involved in Trump's war against the DS. I have vetted the person, which is to say I have seen his credentials and know he is who he says he is. And that he is in a position to know these things. I will not endanger lives by naming persons who request anonymity.

Nice to see you stand behind your work, and this is certainly good reading, but in a fake news world, before long we all need to see real evidence. No offense.

Michael, thank you for getting back. It's just so confusing because what you have published seems legit , but this other source and sources on line claim to say that yes under Trump administration many were arrested and are at Gitmo and have had Military Tribunals already and many are no longer on this earth. A lot of what we are seeing is CGI . I just wish President Trump would clarify all this! There have been list you can find on line with names and many well known Government officials and Stars are gone because of the involvement with the Cabal and crimes against humanity

The fake hologram image of Joe Biden (a Bloomberg News feed) the other day greeting reporters on the supposedly WH lawn should be a huge eye opener for most Americans. The whole Biden regime is just an elaborate movie. Know one really knows who is in charge of this charade.

Yes, Telegram doesn't allow complete links and even so-called Q sites prohibit 'realrawnews'

Man, I hope this is true. This is a lot detailed information for sure so it's hard to believe this would all be fake news. Been waiting years for justice and I hope it's coming!

I am just amazed no media ever talks about this story. We call the military the big mute. So yes, they have to keep this story secret, but for how long ? If Hillary Clinton is in GITMO, then she must have her double who imitates the real HC with very good talent. Future will tell. I just do hope that all those criminals will be punished and Donald Trump will get back to power asap, as he is the legitimate president of the US and the 2020 election was stolen from him : that is unfair not only for President Trump but also for the American people.

Even more importantly, with these ‘creatures’ out of the way, the children are saved. Now I know what Christ’s comment of “Suffer the little children come unto me” means.

Well Michael, all your readers can do is hope you are correct. Nothing would make us happier. Rush Limbaugh ask a question of his audience a year, or so ago: How many of you people know someone, or have a friend who knows someone who was murdered? I know a lot of people, and I sure don’t, he said. But look at the Clintons! At least fifty of their known associates have been killed, over the years. Not a coincidence, me thinks.

To this day, there is still no reasonable explanation why all of Bill Clinton’s personal state trooper body guards including most of their wives are all dead when he was governor of Arkansas. Hillary presumably had a kill fest prior to his nomination as POTUS.

Trump is a sellout. Why is he urging Americans, including his supporters, get the vaccine? He is deep state part of the big pharma.

Abul, You’re forgetting that Trump has referred to hydroxychloriquine as vaccine – not the kind you put in your arm or rear end, but a vaccine taken by mouth.

Then why doesn’t he come out and clarify this statement, its confusing a lot of Trump supporters!

When considering Trump saying to take the “beautiful” vaccine, Look at the highest factor in this; The left with their ultimate scare to the world with this virus, wants fear to rule you. Trump alleviates the fear factor with HCQ. The left poo poed that and closed all doors to use it. Then the narrative became, “Until there is a vaccine we will have to stay inside”. Well there is a vaccine now (Be it good or bad). This ends the left’s narrative. Boom. I consider it Trump code words to me to mean not to take the vaccine, but let people make up their own mind. Trump is not God, but Jesus said He would not leave us or forsake us. Trump has a plan that is playing out now. God is guiding this. Trust the plan.

With respect, right now Trump is not talking about HCQ. During his late two televised interview, the last one with Fox’s Maria Bartiroma, he very clearly encouraged his supporters to get vaccinated.

Trump stated that getting the vaccine was a personal choice. If you fear this virus and feel it the vaccine will help take the vaccine it is your choice. Trump also stated that his family would not be taking it.

I do agree to part of your statement that we are allowed to “make up our own minds” since we have that freedom to do so. He did recommend his supporters to take the vaccine, but allowed for the freedom to bow out. I can live with that. What I cannot understand, does Trump read reports from around the world that the vaccines are indeed dangerous and have no therapeutic benefit in reality?

Big Pharma will kill anyone in positions of power who speak against the vaccine. They have certainly done so already. Trump is not immune to the Big Pharma mafia. He is only one person. He realizes he MUST say the vaccines are great or he will be murdered.

Big Pharm is making a killing killing us. If you object to that, Big Pharma objects to you — to the point of taking you out. They have already murdered numerous doctors, researchers, and heads of state.

Trump has said many times on his campaign swings across the country that “Big Pharma” is no friend of Donald Trump nor he with them. Doesn’t surprise me that they have made veiled threats against his life. Also heard that Pfizer deliberately delayed the production of this vaccine to spite the President and hurt his chance for re-election.

Trump may be America First but given the information over the last 4 years it would seem his biggest Priority is Israel First. Guess we’ll see which one he supports when the Noahide Laws come into effect on all Americans.

The spouse and I had that same discussion, and now I am having my doubts about this so called gung-ho American. I think the American people have been played badly.

Hillary Clinton says she hopes GOP will ‘find its soul’

Hillary Clinton criticized the current state of the Republican party on Monday, denouncing the GOP for what she described as cultlike allegiance to former President Trump. “They’ve done a calculation. They’ve concluded Trump is the puppet master who pulls the strings of the hardcore base of the Republican Party,” the former Democratic presidential candidate said in a Washington Post Live interview. “They’re just throwing the towel in.”

Per our source, the Clinton people currently see in the media is a crafty mix of CGI/Deep Fake/Hologram.

Thanks a lot for your info, I believe in every word that you said.

The Joe Biden holographic image in front of those reporters was creepy and convincing enough for me that this whole thing is a gigantic hoax to fool a gullible American public.

The liberal left / Deep State is still heavily invested in her. They can't let her die, hence the holograms or whatever, and they can't admit the real Clinton has been captured or killed, as that would be admitting defeat.

Anyone from the "deep state" can shoot out twitters in her name! Don't be so gullible.

I am not sure whether that interview with Hillary is real or not especially since the CGI hologram image of Joe Biden appeared on Bloomberg news feed the other day. What if Hillary who walks around DC and Chappaqua is just a body double or something. It has happen before you know on that day when they threw her limped body into that limousine, and just hours later appeared bright and lit up on her daughters doorstep as if nothing had happened!

You all know that this is probably all BS, right? The NDA prohibits civilian prisoners from being transported on military aircraft.

When you commit treason, you lose your right as a citizen, especially when we are under Marshall Law, which we are.

Martial law yet zero evidence of it to be found. Much like claims Trump is still president yet he's talking 22 ans 24 while O-Biden is destroying the country from the office of president. It a sounds nice but show me some evidence already.

I don't believe that applies to persons deemed "enemy combatants" which includes persons involved in treason with a known enemy. Also , if tne Insurrection Act is in effect martial law is different than civil laws.

I'm not sure what her legal rights are, seeing as how she was stripped of her American citizenship after being arrested and charged. I would think that as a military prisoner accused of "Treason", they could transport her in the back of a garbage truck if they had one readily available...

What makes you think it was military aircraft? The government has many contracted flights with civilian entities. Many years ago I worked flight lines off loading DOD cargo from many civilian aircraft on military bases all the time. Yes I am aware of the NDAA which prohibits transporting civilian prisoners on military aircraft.

Everyone, watch "The 6th Day" ..

A clone will believe they are the original source ..

Bad habits transferred and all ..

The scene between Dr. Weir (Duvall) and his wife is most compelling ..

Then watch "The Island" ..

A clone there, recalls Latin from his “source” ..

Whoever is in Gitmo could well still be a clone ..

The original HRC, executed years ago ..

And the Gitmo doctors not knowing, unless they know exactly what to look for ..

I can believe withdraw. I’ve read stories about the satanist events. One was from someone who witnessed one. They cut a pregnant mother open, unsexed so as not to prevent the adrenaline rush, and the child was also sacrificed. They drink the blood for the rush.

Check out this story. Lady Gag Me is featured in it

Me, too! If it isn’t, it is still a “hoot” to read and imagine her in this situation! Michael is great!

How much Hopium does one have to inhale to create the alternate reality you did with these articles?

I’m trying to imagine what Nanzi Pelosi would be like as “Detainee 54”? I bet she could make Hillary seem like an angel...

this guy Baxter is a skill...go back to muckrack and read. he is pushing global vaccines etc. he is a global skill... why... can you trust this guy?

This bitch is absolutely possessed by evil Satanic demons (probably several). Her behavior described in this article makes this pretty obvious to anyone with a discerning eye. First stoic and lethargic, then violent as well as physically and verbally abusive, threats of physical harm and even death threats, then back to stoic and lethargic, even the behavior describing her looking like a caged animal with distemper. This is the behavior of classic Satanic demon possession. Even if she is also exhibiting signs of a drug withdrawal as well, the behavior described here sounds to me to be pure Satanic possession on full display.

Assuming that Michael Baxter’s reports on Hillary Clinton’s arrest and her subsequent transfer to Gitmo are false, then, why don’t the Clinton people seize upon Baxter’s unflattering description of her alleged behaviour in prison as the grounds for a defamation lawsuit against the publisher (Real Raw News)? Why is the publisher (Real Raw News) so bold that it dares to publish such unflattering details of her alleged behaviour in prison without fears of being sued for defamation? Why does the mainstream media remain completely silent about Baxter's reports on Hillary Clinton's alleged arrest? Isn't the fact that someone has released three (3) reports on Hillary Clinton's arrest, transfer to Gitmo and life in prison within a short period of only two (2) weeks, false or true, not news at all? Or not news that deserves to be categorically refuted or confirmed?

Crucify the bitch! After her conviction, lead her out on a transport truck driven to a desolate location somewhere on Cuba. Once there lay her down on a makeshift cross naked, bind her arms to the lateral cross beams and tie her cancles to the vertical shaft, raise it up, and plug the cross into an already dug out hole upright! Leave her suspended to the hot Caribbean sun and its ever present vultures to finish the job! Maybe in the last days of her life she will remember those innocent children brutally tortured and killed to retrieve that excretion from the adrenaline she so wantonly craved!
